Preparation* Participants will be asked to complete a needs analysis prior to the course start date. They will also be asked to complete a short pre-course task to help them prepare for the course.
Before the conference, information about the program will be available on the website of the organization institution and information mail will be sent.
The training will provide participants with, techniques, methodologies or skills related to management of learning

Objectives* The aim of this course for teachers is to develop their knowledge and skills in the CLIL methodology, and all the participants examine aspects of second language acquisition theory relevant to CLIL teaching and CLIL lesson planning/materials creation.

In the CLIL classes, we will deal with several topics in particular the selection and adaptation of materials, and the incorporation of activities to maximize learner involvement, specially multisubject activities as a possible part of an European project or learning different subjects at the same time. how to incorporate EFL (English as a Foreign Language) techniques into subject teaching to aid learner understanding of instructions and explanations, and creating multidisciplinary activities as some exemples relative to Outdoor Activities.

The course also aims to raise participants the importance of collaboration across English and subject departments and the use the new technologys as the professional development and the students learning.

”Making the way” is an opportunity to educate and to promote a common European outdoor sports culture as well as to, provide experience transfer by sharing successes and difficulties. And To increase teacher collaboration within the European dimension of education.

Methodology* The methodology is defined by the activities in the class and outdoor activities making Outdoor sports in natural areas

The tasks are varied, dynamic and practical . The CLIL experts will be working closely to give oral and written feedback on all the work you submit.

In the course ther will be different type of sessions:

- PLENARY sessions where the teacher will include background talks on different issues followed by a discussion, WORKSHOP computer room sessions
- WORKING GROUP hands on sessionsworking in small groups and assisted by a tutor, or outdoor activities where all the particapnts will practice in a real situation the activity.

Follow-up* After the training, there will be follow-up activities which will allow participants to get maximum benefit from the training (distance learning activities, e-mail contacts with trainers, blog acces, and other activities ...)After the course, participants should be able to:

- use outdoor sports activities to support language learning
- use language pedagogic techniques and principles to support multi subject competences
- increase confidence and self-awareness of their learners in their own work and effort
- document own activities appropriately for publication on the website
- use the website to share experiences and network with other teachers in different European countries
